

9Health Fair Becomes 9Health:365

42 Year-Old Non-Profit Expands Services Year-Round; Provides COVID-19 Vaccines to Underserved Communities

DENVER, Colo. – April 19, 2021 – 9Health Fair, known for providing community health fairs across the state, is expanding services to meet today’s needs. The 42-year-old community non-profit is making its affordable health screenings available year-round and providing additional preventive health tools and services every day of the year.

9Health added 365 to its name and refreshed its brand to reflect this expansion of services to the community. “What has been a remarkable 42-year run as 9Health Fair is now poised to make an even greater impact year-round by expanding beyond once-a-year events,” Gary Drews, CEO said. “While the COVID-19 pandemic required us to temporarily cancel health fairs to protect the health of our communities, we have weathered the worst of the pandemic and are emerging stronger than ever.”

Today, Coloradans can access 9Health Fair screenings at the same affordable prices conveniently at Quest Patient Service Centers while the spring 9Health Fairs have been postponed. Simply order the screenings at 9HealthFair.org and schedule an appointment at a Quest Patient Service Center for the day and time that works best. Screenings are available to all Coloradans, regardless of whether they have health insurance or not.

9Health:365 also features a new service now available for organizations, businesses and groups that combines health screenings with accessible and affordable text-based telehealth, digital tools, and the education essential to using them wisely every day of the year. These services will be available to individuals later this year along with additional benefits, including behavioral health. All the enhancements help 9Health:365 fulfill its long-awaited goal of connecting people to the preventive care they needed to act on their personalized health findings.

“9Health:365 signals significant progress to connecting people to affordable and accessible preventive health and follow-up care,” Drews commented. “If the pandemic taught us anything, it reinforced the importance of our shared mission: to increase health awareness among underserved communities and connect people to the resources and tools that will help them take responsibility for their own health.”

While the health fairs were postponed during the pandemic, 9Health:365 has re-deployed its resources to also support the State of Colorado’s equity priority to provide COVID-19 Vaccines in underserved communities.

9Health:365 is committed to ensuring all Coloradans have access to this life-saving vaccine. “We are honored to be a part of the State’s effort to stop the spread of COVID,” said Gary Drews, CEO 9Health. “If we want to get our lives back to normal, we must vaccinate everyone we can as quickly as we can. As the wearing of masks has proven, it will take all of us working together to get this situation under control. 9Health:365 is proud to be a part of the team.”

Together, the vaccine distribution assistance and the new accessibility to preventive health year-round demonstrate 9Health:365’s continued commitment to the health and wellness of the Colorado community.

ABOUT 9HEALTH:365

9Health:365, a 501c-3 community non-profit, is a state-wide, year-round initiative bringing the power of preventive health to all Coloradans, wherever and whenever they need us. 9Health:365 is the next step of the 9Health Fair, which has been a beloved and respected member of Colorado’s healthcare offerings for decades. The new name and identity signify the services’ evolution and growth into an even more accessible, user-friendly, community-centered way for people all across our state to find, connect with, and benefit from preventive health screenings, telehealth and information.

Since its inception in 1980, the organization has impacted over 2 million people with health and wellness tools such as preventive health screenings, evidence-based, objective health education, and eTools. Headquartered in Denver, Colorado, 9Health:365 continues to be one of the largest volunteer-driven, nonprofit efforts in the nation and holds unique endorsements from the Colorado Medical Society, the Colorado Nurses Association, and the Colorado Hospital Association.
